

This map was constructed using a USGS topographic map background image. The road layer used for analysis was copyrighted by Redwood National and State Parks within the last decade. A few short road segments from the USGS map, which are visible in the background layer of this map, are no longer present according to the inventories used by this planning document.